Mr Abdul Kayum Arain

As a councillor of Cambridge City Council and as a resident of Cambridge for over 6 years I have seen first hand the excellent work of the Cambridge Muslim Trust and its Chairman, Mr Abdul Kayum Arain. I have personally known Mr Abdul Kayum Arain for many years and I hold him in high regard. I know that the non-profit community organisation Majid Al-Ikhlās and Cambridge Islamic Centre is dedicated to supporting many people, especially younger people and the most vulnerable in society, which I know they aspire to continue to expand on.

I know that the Cambridge Muslim Trust has worked in partnership with local service providers, such as the City Council, schools and the NHS, and formed important relationships with key Cambridge stakeholders such as ward councillors and the Police.

With my good wishes for the future.

Best Wishes
